Sad Drowning of Irma Youth Casts Gloom Over District

WESLEY PYLE

A very sad drowning accident occurred in the Battle River near Fabyan when Wesley, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pyle, of Irma, was drowned while fishing, on the evening of Friday, June 12. Mr. Wells, principal of the Irma public school, and Mrs. Wells took a number of the senior pupils on a fishing trip to King's Park, Fabyan. The party worked up stream for a considerable distance, but after a time five of the boys, including Wesley, turned back. When they reached the bend in the river immediately west of the swimming pool in the park, Wesley, who was the only one wearing a bathing suit, waded out beyond his depth and went down, apparently stepping into a hole. Ducky Fletcher and Ernest Carter ran for Mr. Wells and Billie Marsden, plunged in with their clothes on as far as they dared go in an effort to reach a pole out to their comrade. When this rescue attempt failed and there being no one at the swimming pool, Jackie Fletcher and Ernest Carter ran for Mr. Wells and Billie Marsden and Carl Soneff hurried to Mrs. King's house. Help was soon at the scene of the accident.

After repeated attempts by Geo. Madder and Ralph King, the body was recovered by Ralph. Dr. Middlemass, of Wainwright, soon arrived and immediately started artificial respiration, but failed to revive the unfortunate lad.

The body was taken to the Viking undertaking parlors to be prepared for burial. Wesley was 13 years and two months old at the time of his death.

The funeral service was held Monday afternoon, at two o'clock in the Irma United church, Rev. E. Longmire officiating. The older pupils of the public school and Mrs. Wells, the principal, attended the service in a body, also the members of the Irma L.O.B.A., as a token of sympathy to Mrs. Pyle who is the Worthy Mistress of the lodge.

Interment was made in the family plot in the Irma cemetery. The following young men of the district acted as pall bearers: Peter Kustick, Allison Carter, Lorne Raham, Harvie Elford, Leonard Parsons and Ernest Renwick.

The many beautiful floral tributes were from the following:

Grandmother, Grandfather, and Aunt and Uncles; Hockin, Vera, Dorothy and Grace; Layton, Mary and family; Mr. and Roy Mackey; Teacher and class; Mrs. Holt and Pupils; Pee Wee Hockey Club; Irma L.O.B.A., No. 974; Wainwright Lodge I.O.O.F. #### W.C.T.U. PARLOR MEETING

One of the social events of the weeks was a W.C.T.U. parlor meeting at the home of Mrs. Parke on the evening of her birthday, June 11. Twenty-five guests were present.

A feature of the program was a medal contest. A class of four competed for the bronze medal which the organization awards to contestants aged 11 years and under. Mrs. Reeds, Mrs. Holt and Miss Longmire, judges, awarded the medal to Betty Lou Hockett. Other contestants, close runners, were Donnie Simmerman, Edward Hardy and Donna Faye Hockett. They all rendered their societies well and were each presented with a souvenir.

A reading, "On Being Clicked" in Irish brogue, filled in while waiting for the decision of the judges.

An appeal made for the Petawawa Home Centre Funds was well responded to; and all the International Pet Garden Cards on hand were disposed of.

A bountiful lunch was provided and served by guests.

Attention was called to the temperance posters that were on the walls, having come from many schools throughout the province. Mrs. Longmire voiced appreciation of the good work done by the scientific department of the Women's Christian Temperance Union.

This was followed by a bit of song, "Good Nights" and "Happy Returns."

HONOLULU PAPER HAS

ACCOUNT OF CHAS. PETERSON
In the Who's Who column of the Red Hill Weekly of Honolulu, Hawaii under date of May 9, 1942, is a sketch of Charles Peterson, son of W. B. (Slim) Peterson, formerly of Irma.

In the account Charlie is described as that Wit and Wag, Charlie, humorous genial shaft boss on the mighty Red Hill defense project. In this sketch it is mentioned that Charlie was born in 1908 in a sod house on the homestead which was located several miles east of Didsbury, Alta. Six months later in 1909, his parents moved to Irma which at that time had just appeared on the map and where Charlie had the great honor of being the only infant in the town. Needless to say he was the centre of attraction and was greatly admired by all the inhabitants. Since the family moved to California, Charlie and his dad both got work on a defense project at Pearl Harbor and were both there when the Japs paid their visit.

Several years ago Charlie took unto himself a wife and now they have a family of two daughters. Irma friends will be glad to know both Charlie and his dad are enjoying good health and doing well at that far away island.

LIVE ELEVATORS EXHIBIT

A highly lighted, mechanized panorama to emphasize the tremendous importance of agriculture in Canada's war program will form the main portion of the live elevator companies' exhibit on the fair circuit this summer. The entire back part of the 30x15 ft. booth will be divided into three sections. The first will be a Western Canadian rural scene. This will illustrate the production of those farm commodities which are urgently needed for war. The second scene shows an industrial area. From one end of this scene essential farm products will be seen moving to the factories. This movement will be affected by means of an endless belt. At the other end of the scene another endless belt will carry the processed farm products to seaboards for shipment to Britain and the fighting fronts. The third scene will show a convoy of ships actually moving out to sea. Merchant ships carrying precious food from prairie farms will be escorted by warships arranged in proper convoy order.

One of the sides of the exhibit will be used to illustrate the amazing things which are being done to foods to conserve shipping space. Exhibits will be included to show how much space is saved by drying eggs, evaporating and powdering milk, and dehydrating fruits and vegetables. The opposite side will illustrate how yields of crops needed for war can be improved by controlling weeds, insects and diseases.

A pamphlet entitled "Your Farm Has a War Job" will be distributed from the exhibit. Sound moving pictures will also be shown. All farmers and other fair visitors are cordially invited to visit the live elevator companies' display. It will be shown at the Fair Current frontier celebration and the following exhibitions: Revelstoke, Calgary, Portage la Prairie, Yorkton, Melfort, Lawa, Virden, Vernon, Vegreville, Red Deer, North Battleford and Prince Albert.

A. F. U. Notes

(From the Viking News)

The monthly meeting of the local was held on Saturday, June 13, and although not so well attended as the May meeting, keen interest was shown toward the farm problems discussed.

Mr. Alfred Lefsrud very ably outlined the history of the farm organizations from 1887 to the present time, and described the great part that the pioneer farmer and one time minister of agriculture, Mr. Motherwell, had taken in the last 50 years. Although now over 80 years of age he played a great part in the recent farmers' delegation to Ottawa. Mr. Lefsrud strongly urged the farmers to organize, not 10 per cent, but at least 90 per cent so that we can compete in this organized world with some chance of success.

Mr. K. V. Kapler of Strone and a member of the Alberta Poultry Producers Marketing Board addressed the meeting and gave a detailed report of the Board and how it helped the farmers to obtain all it was possible to get through a co-operative system. He also mentioned that Viking had proved to be very co-operative through the successful creamery and the livestock and wheat pools. A resolution was passed asking the Poultry Board to establish a shipping agency in Viking. This was sponsored by the A.F.U. local. We will publish the results and any information we may have as we receive it. We, as a farmers' organization, are working solely in the best interests of the farmer, but we must be strong and alive to our responsibilities for on the great organ of the universe there are no useless keys. They must all be played. A missing platinum point will stop a great automobile. Perhaps you think no one will notice your negligence, but there are ears that hear, eyes that see. Play on. You are more important than you know.

French River and Devil's Gap Highlight Ontario Holidays

One of the surest ways of maintaining a proper perspective of things is to take temporary leave of the cares of a troubled world and get back to nature for a while... a trend that should be particularly popular this summer at French River Bungalow Camp, near Georgian Bay and Devil's Gap Lodge on the Lake of the Woods, where all the comforts of a metropolitan hotel are combined with the freedom and informality of great outdoors.

Located in the heart of Ontario's loveliest lake and forest country, yet conveniently served by a Canadian Pacific Railway line, both resorts offer such popular vacation pursuits as fishing—and that includes matching wits with the giant muscalunge, hunting, canoeing, yachting, bathing and hiking, with the contrasting "city" delights of golfing, tennis, and dancing in a setting that might well be a hundred miles from nowhere.

Consisting of attractive, electrically-equipped cabins and central community lodge, French River Bungalow Camp is one of the few resorts in the world where big game fishing can be enjoyed within earshot of the whack of a golf club. This miracle was achieved by carving a sporty nine-hole course from the woods surrounding nearby Dry Pine Bay, where golfers' movements are frequently studied through the wide eyes of a wild deer.

Fashioned after similar lines, Devil's Gap Lodge, an exhilarating boat ride from Kanora station, provides unlimited opportunities for the summer sportsman or vacationist, whether his tastes run to stalking "muskie", pickering, bass or trout, or simply acquiring a golden tan from a diving float or lazily drifting canoe. Excellent boating facilities are maintained by the Lodge where guests have access to a nine-hole golf course and fine tennis courts.

Fishing is a major attraction at French River Bungalow Camp and Devil's Gap Lodge, handsome trophies being awarded for the largest muscalunge, bass and pickerel fished from their respective waters. Guides, boats, tackle and bait are also maintained for the guests' convenience.

Hikers and Riders Invade Eagle's Domain

There are many ways of enjoying the scenic wonders of the Rocky Mountains, but none more intimate or soul-satisfying than following the less-frequented trails and byways, on horseback or on foot, under the friendly guidance of two of Canada's leading alpine societies . . . the Sky Line Trail Hikers and the Trail Riders of the Canadian Rockies. Both groups have set the date and planned colorful itineraries for their annual outings which this year will cover some of the Rockies' major scenic highlights in the vicinity of Banff, Alta. The Trail Riders will set out from Banff Springs Hotel July 24, and will enjoy five days in the saddle, as well as the joys of camp life en route. Their main camp will be located at lovely Egypt Lake about half-way on the trail. The Sky Line Trail Hikers, whose members rely on their own legs rather than horse-power, have their annual "safest" scheduled for July 31 to August 3. They too will start out from Banff, and armed with canes and alpenstocks, will explore the district around Simpson Pass and nearby Sunshine Valley where their main camp will be located. Founded by J. Murray Gibson, general publicity agent for the Canadian Pacific Railway, both organizations have world-wide memberships, and continue to enroll new members every year. Each year they take to the trail, the Sky Line Hikers on foot, and the Trail Riders mounted on sure-footed mountain-bred horses. The riders and hikers proceed leisurely, stopping at frequent intervals to fish for trout in the glacial waters of Rocky Mountain streams, "shoot" big game with their cameras, study interesting species of alpine flora, and marvel at the breath-taking panorama. And when day is done, they gather around friendly campfires for hearty meals, sing-songs and later sleep in tee-pees or under the stars.

Here is one time that an auction sale in this part of Alberta had to be postponed on account of rain. Mr. Calvin Goodale, a farmer a few miles north east of Irma, wishing to go to Ontario and change his occupation, gave Mr. Reynolds, auctioneer of Wainwright, instructions to sell his farm goods and chattels on June 16. However, the rain, which is eagerly looked for at this time of the year in Alberta, arrived before the crowd, with the result that after selling a few articles it was decided to postpone the sale to Wednesday, June 24. No doubt Mr. Goodale will realize more money as a result of the rain.

Miss Mary Kellar took ill very suddenly with appendicitis last Sunday evening and was taken to Mannville hospital where she has since undergone an operation.

LADIES AID MEETING

On account of the rain, the June meeting that was to have been held at Mrs. Martin Knudson's was held in the church. The president, Mrs. Arnold, conducted the meeting, with fourteen members and friends present.

The most important business was the garden party to be held on Wednesday, June 24, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Smallwood. A very fine supper is being planned, and after that races and sports for the children, also horse shoes and soft ball for the adults. Everyone is welcome.

World of Wheat

by H. G. L. Strange
Director of the Searle Grain Co.
Nature's "Mass Birth"

Of all the seasons in the farmer's year, early summer best gladdens the heart; for now springs to the eye the first evidence of nature's ever-recurring "mass birth;" tender young shoots of plants, trees, vines and shrubs reaching upward to eventual fruit and harvest; young life joyously frisking and gamboling on yet unsteady limbs, but hourly gaining strength and nourishment from rich milk flowing from the dam's distended udders; milk itself but young grass transformed by nature's mysterious alchemy into a more precious essence and grass in turn given growth by moisture first lifted high by the mighty forces of nature from the never-emptying seas into vast cloudy receptacles, then blown by the winds of heaven to the far corners of the globe and dropped onto the eagerly waiting fertile lap of mother earth; so starting the cycle of life once again on its great annual course.

The farmer's part in this destined sequence of nature's marvels, is with care, patience and skill to utilize these natural phenomena so that the fruits of it all shall be food needed for sustenance by the world's teeming populations; that they in turn may have strength to fulfill their own appointed tasks.
